

Please carefully look at your view on Low Power FM in regards to overtaking FM translated radio sites. The FM translated radio stations are a powerful tool for our country to spread news, information, and entertainment to a wide audience. Having a wide audience can help the country in times of emergency and providing information to a large part of the population.